

Introduction

This week is Progress Review Week and an opportunity for you to review your progress against the Career Ready Standards with tutors to ensure you are on the right track for outstanding achievement. English and Maths skills are at the top of the list for employers so it is important that you place the same emphasis on these key components of the study programme. 100% attendance at classes and exams will put you in the right place for the best result.

Half-term break begins on the 29th May, you should use this time wisely to focus on any outstanding work and as always we are on hand to support. The Learning and Skills Centre will be open Tuesday to Friday of the half-term week.

We trust you will have a well-deserved break and look forward to welcoming you back on week-beginning 5th June 2017.

LDC Update

This week LDCs will be focusing on Solving Problems and Spotting Opportunities. They will discuss some of the key problem solving and enterprise skills required in the modern job market. They will think about what makes a person successful and what skills are important to help get the career you want. They will also think about at the range of skills that people need to help them solve all kinds of problems. In addition, learners will have a chance to assess their own skills and progress at college by completing a Skills Identifier.

General Election – voting drive

Chuka Umunna – Labour MP for Streatham visiting the College

LDCs have delivered a tutorial on the key points relating to the upcoming general election and encouraging learners to register to vote. In addition, we have had non-partisan voter registration campaigns on The Street, also from the Labour party. This week LDCs will be bringing their groups to The Theatre this Tuesday at 3.30pm to hear local Labour MP for Streatham Chuka Umunna talk about the issues facing young people in his constituency followed by a Q&A session.

Student Union Update

The Student Union Election voting moves into its second and final week today. If you haven't done so already, please read the candidate's manifestoes online and then vote for your favourites. All the SU Election materials can be found on the Lambeth College Moodle page. Go to Learner Voice from your home page and then scroll down to find sections on manifestoes and voting. We are also continuing with our lunch time voting drive this week so if you don't get a chance to vote in lesson you can vote using our iPads. An LDC will be at the desk every lunch time, 12-2pm, just outside the canteen in Clapham.

More Globe Theatre Successes

On Thursday 13 May the Level 2 & 3 Media Make-up learners visited the Globe Theatre as part of their work experience placement. The students were invited to watch Jessica Swale's Olivier-Award winning play, Nell Gynn. The play is about an unlikely heroine who went from a lowly orange seller to a national treasure. The students thoroughly enjoyed the play and the experience of watching it, in an outdoor theatre.

Update from Careers and Employability

Opportunities for students interested in architecture and construction

Work Experience Day at OTIS for Engineering learners

Another trip to OTIS is scheduled on Tuesday 16 May. Learners will get the opportunity to learn about the different roles within the company, team building exercise and how to go about building an engineering CV. The learners will also learn about opportunities including apprenticeships and volunteering.

Masterclass series: Career Pathways

On Wednesday 10 April Career Ready students attended the Preparing for Work masterclass with the aim of preparing for work by identifying acceptable workplace behaviour and understanding employer expectations. The masterclass was delivered by Hollie Willets, Management Consultant at Accenture.

Students said: “This workshop helped me understand what employers expect and the right way to come across in the workplace and towards your manager”. “This session was informative and effective because I have a better understanding on how to prepare and carry myself during my placement”.

For more information please contact Stefania Caria at scaria@lambethcollege.ac.uk or 020 7501 5164.

IBM Apprenticeship talk

On Friday 12 May two L3 Business groups attended an Apprenticeships talk delivered by Jez Brooks, Early Professionals Manager and Apprentice Programme Leader from IBM. Students learnt about IBM history, school leavers and apprenticeships schemes in London and at IBM. They also found out more about different level of apprenticeships including degree apprenticeships and the selection process. Students said: “It was very useful and made me want to explore my options after college”, “Good, friendly presentation and interesting content”, “I learned more about my options after college. I also feel more positive about my future”.

For more information please contact Stefania Caria at scaria@lambethcollege.ac.uk or 020 7501 5164.

Learning Resources will be running a survey between:
15 May - 26 May 2017

Help us improve our service
by taking part.

Access to the survey is via Moodle.

Sports Enrichment:

Well done! Lambeth College Football Team wins London Football Association Indoor Tournament.

On Wednesday the 10 May Lambeth College Football Team went to the SFX College to participate at the London Football Association and SFX College organised an invitational Indoor 5-a-side Football Tournament. The Tournament was very competitive and required the best effort from each team that participated at every game. Lambeth College Team have played an excellent game from the beginning and undefeated reached the finals. The finals was played between Lambeth College and NewVic College, this battle was very competitive, equal and intense until one of our learners – Klajdi scored a thrilling goal last minute and lead our team to win the game 3 - 2. Also Klajdi, who scored an impressive 12 goals all throughout the tournament was nominated as the Most Valuable Player of the tournament and won a price - Nike Trainers. Lambeth College Football Team's Champions Trophy is displayed at the College Health and Well Being centre - A Block.
